

Home Builders Association of Fort Wayne, Inc.

To: Prospective Member

“Who will build homes tomorrow?”

“Those who protect the industry today.”

On May 1, 2001 the Fort Wayne HBA Board of Directors adopted the Indiana Quality Assurance Builder Standards. We feel that this is an extremely important program that will benefit the builders and remodelers in our association. Even the members who build above the standard will be able to use this as a useful tool to show your customers that your quality is superior compared to what is considered acceptable in the industry.

We have a supply of books available at our office. The cost of each book is $35.00 which includes tax. Mandatory participation is required to become a member of the HBA of Fort Wayne.

Any remodeling projects which exceed $15,000 will require a book to be given to the customer. Any project below $15,000 is at the discretion of the builder. This amount has been approved by the Board of Directors and the Remodelers' Council.

If you have any questions regarding this program, please call our office at (260) 420-2020.

PROGRAM MISSION

One objective of the builders association is to improve the community image of our building industry. Towards that objective, a committee of dedicated industry professionals, representing builders, developers, remodelers and suppliers volunteered thousands of hours to develop the Indiana Quality Assurance Builder Standards. (Hereafter referred to as "Standards.")

The Standards Include:

- 1) A set of "Standards" for common issues outlined to establish realistic expectations to the consumer in the building or remodeling of their home.
- 2) Recommended language for including the "Standards" and "Mediation/Arbitration" binding language into all member projects, contracts and marketing information.

The Standards are the culmination of the builders association's commitment to create a series of performance guidelines that all members can use to establish their customer's expectations regarding the building/remodeling process. The Standards address the most prevalent issues that arise between the builder/remodeler and the customer, before, during, and most importantly, after the project is completed.

Disputes will inevitably arise that cannot be settled between two parties by using the Standards. The Standards include a mediation/binding arbitration mechanism to provide another vehicle to dispute resolution outside of the costly and time-consuming court process.

The Board of Directors has determined that the most important opportunity to meet our objective is to require the use of, and adherence to, these Standards as a commitment to membership. More importantly, these Standards are a written commitment by our members of quality assurance for their customers. This allows every member, along with the Association, the opportunity to promote the message of professionalism and standards.

It's a measurable difference.

WHAT THE INDIANA QUALITY ASSURANCE BUILDER STANDARDS ARE:

- ◆ Tool used to establish realistic customer expectations at the beginning of the building process for the service period
- ◆ Definition of standards for common issues that would typically lead to disputes and independent inspections of a builder's product
- ◆ Set of standards that will eliminate further government intervention into the industry caused by customer complaints
- ◆ Method by which the builders association will work to improve the consumer's image of builders and the building process

WHAT THE INDIANA QUALITY ASSURANCE BUILDER STANDARDS ARE NOT:

- ◆ They will NOT create a drastic change in the way you are doing business today
- ◆ They are NOT an attempt to rewrite the building codes
- ◆ They are NOT an attempt to add another review process to your business of building homes
- ◆ They are NOT an attempt to have your association tell you how you should build your house or what materials to use in your house

OBJECTIVE:

To encourage professionalism within the home building industry and increase the likelihood that homebuyers will have a satisfactory experience when buying a new home. The Indiana Quality Assurance Builder Standards were adopted in 2000. The Standards provide the builder and remodeler membership with a set of standards buyers can rely upon.

STANDARDS COMMITMENT FORM

As a commitment to membership in the Home Builders Association of Fort Wayne, Inc. every builder, remodeler, and interim builder member (hereinafter referred to as "member") shall sign and agree to the following conditions:

1. The Indiana Quality Assurance Builder Standards manual must be provided to every customer at the time of contract signing for each new construction and/or remodeling project undertaken by the member.
2. All contracts must include language incorporating the Standards as a part of each new construction and/or remodeling project undertaken by the member. (Recommended contract language included)
3. A third party dispute resolution mechanism, selected by the builder to handle disputes arising from the Standards shall be a part of all contracts for construction and/or remodeling projects undertaken by the member.
4. The member understands that non-compliance with these commitments, unresolved dispute resolutions, or a large number of complaints against the member may require that the member address the Indiana Quality Assurance Builder Standards Coordinator/Committee of the Association. The Coordinator/Committee may recommend that the Board of Directors impose sanctions on the member. Those potential sanctions may include, but are not limited to eliminating membership privileges and/or expulsion from the Association.

I have read, understand, and agree to, the above-described commitments, including all exhibits, as a part of my membership in the Home Builders Association of Fort Wayne, Inc. This commitment is valid until written notification is given by either party to cancel the membership.

(REMODELER MODIFICATION)

The Quality Assurance Builder Standards program shall be modified ONLY for remodeler members:

- 1) To the extent practical for the given scope of a remodeling project, the remodeler shall provide a complete Quality Assurance Builder Standards manual (hereinafter referred to as "manual") to each customer and include the Standards into the contract for the project. If, due to the limited scope of the remodeling project, the remodeler deems it not practical to provide a manual to the customer and/or not include the Standards in the contract, they understand that they do so at their own risk and will hold the Association harmless from any legal action taken against the remodeler.
- 2) Notwithstanding the above modification, the remodeler shall comply with all Standards applicable to the project, regardless of having given the customer a manual and/or included the Standards into the contract for the project. In addition, the remodeler agrees to provide a manual to any customer requesting one regardless of the extent or nature of the project.

This modification is only between the remodeler member and the Association in the remodelers commitment form to the Standards. The consumer should not have occasion to review this modification to the remodeler's Standards' commitment form.

Finally, it is understood that the remodeler's decision to not provide a manual to their customer will not necessarily be the basis by which a complaint and determination regarding adherence to the remodeler's Standards' commitment will be reviewed. A review of a remodeler's membership in accordance with the Standards' commitment will predominately be based on that member's adherence to the Standards.

I have read, understand, and agree to, the above-described commitments, including all exhibits, as a part of my membership in the Home Builders Association of Fort Wayne, Inc. This commitment is valid until written notification is given by either party to cancel the membership.
